1 Graduate Assistantship Types and Duties

The Graduate School recognizes three types of Graduate Assistantships: Academic, Research, and Administrative. Academic Assistantships are used to support faculty in their teaching and research activities. Research Assistantships are used to support faculty in their research activities. Administrative Assistantships are used to support the Graduate School in its administrative functions.

1.3 Graduate Staff Assistant(GSA)

The primary function of a graduate staff assistant (GSA) is to assist in non-teaching and non-research activities. Specific duties of the GSA vary widely, depending on the administrative or academic unit to which they are assigned, but should be at a level to make use of their education and abilities. Although GSAs may assist in various offices, their function is to perform more than the usual receptionist/secretary duties. Computer data entry, record maintenance, reports and survey preparation, correlating data, answering specific questions, are some of the duties GSAs will typically perform. Some GSAs may have musical performance as Departments/units may have additional criteria and summer appointments may not be available. The criteria listed here is the Graduate School's minimum requirement. Please check with your coordinator or hiring personnel for more information as to the specific norms in your area.

Non-compliance:

Failure to maintain enrollment or to comply with academic requirements will result in termination of appointment. The Graduate School is responsible for monitoring the student's compliance with enrollment and academic requirements and will terminate the appointment at the end of the payroll period in which it becomes known enrollment or academic requirements have not been maintained.

2.2 Spoken English Certification

All graduate assistants, whether native or nonnative speakers of English, who have teaching responsibilities, as defined by the Board of Regents, must have their spoken English evaluated by a departmental assessment committee. The committee will be appointed by the department chair or director and will be composed of at least three members: two faculty members and one student. The committee will judge the graduate assistant's spoken English according to the Spoken English Screening Form (SESF) scale of 1-4. A rating of 1 or 2 indicates competency in spoken English and is required for appointing the candidate.

If one member of the assessment committee rates the candidate's spoken English at 3 or 4, the candidate shall be required to achieve a minimum score of 23 on the Speaking portion of the internet-based Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or a minimum score of 50 on the Speaking Proficiency English Assessment Kit (SPEAK) or a minimum score of 7.0 on the Speaking portion of the International English Language Testing System (IELTS). The SPEAK test will only be accepted when administered by officials at Wichita State University. Candidates are responsible for the cost of any of these exams.

Graduate assistants who are nonnative speakers of English, and who have teaching responsibilities as defined by the Board of Regents, that is, "classroom or laboratory instructional responsibilities and/or direct tutorial or advisement contact" must submit a minimum score of 23 on the Speaking portion of the TOEFL or a minimum score of 50 on the SPEAK or a minimum score of 7.0 on the Speaking portion of the IELTS, in addition to the SESF requirement described above. The SPEAK test will only be accepted when administered by officials at Wichita State University.

4 GTA Duties and FERPA

4.1 GTA Assignment Duties

GTAs (both direct and assisting) must use caution in the exercise of their duties. In general, GTAs should not be in a position to evaluate their peers course work nor provide instruction without proper background training or academic accomplishments.

The following Graduate School rules govern the assignments of GTAs duties:

GTAs (working on their master's degree) are qualified to assist with or teach undergraduate courses (regular and lab).

GTAs (working on their master's degree) are qualified to assist with or teach graduate lab courses (master's level) when they have already completed the lab themselves and are in the final stages of their master's program.

GTAs (working on their doctoral degree) are qualified to assist with or teach master's level graduate courses (courses numbered 700 or below; regular or lab).

- b. Leaving a pile of graded papers, with the names and grades easily discernible, on a table or chair for students to pick up on their own whenever they can.
- c. Responding to a parent's questions about their child (your student). If this is ever an issue, please make sure to take the matter directly to the teaching supervisor or to the department chair/director.

Still unsure as to the requirements? No worries, all GTAs will need to complete a mandatory on-line FERPA training which will give you all of the information you need. This is located at the myFinances tab in myWSU and may be reviewed as many times as is necessary. Do not hesitate to ask questions if unsure of any aspect of FERPA law.
