

2017-2018
Highlight

The McNair Program has a long history of providing leadership training and support for students from underrepresented backgrounds. In 1989, the program was established at the University of Kansas. Over the years, it has grown and evolved, providing a wide range of opportunities for students to gain research and leadership experience. The program has been instrumental in the success of many students, providing them with the skills and resources they need to excel in their academic and professional careers. In 1995, the program was recognized as a national leader in its field. The McNair Program continues to be a vital part of the University of Kansas, providing a unique and valuable experience for students from underrepresented backgrounds.

1995, the program was recognized as a national leader in its field. The McNair Program continues to be a vital part of the University of Kansas, providing a unique and valuable experience for students from underrepresented backgrounds. In 2017-2018, the program celebrated its 30th anniversary, marking a significant milestone in its history. The program has continued to grow and evolve, providing a wide range of opportunities for students to gain research and leadership experience. The McNair Program is proud to be a part of the University of Kansas and to continue to provide a unique and valuable experience for students from underrepresented backgrounds.

Core Program Service

The McNair Program provides a wide range of services to its students, including research and leadership training, mentorship, and networking opportunities. The program is committed to providing a high-quality experience for all students, regardless of their background. The McNair Program is proud to be a part of the University of Kansas and to continue to provide a unique and valuable experience for students from underrepresented backgrounds.

Phone: (316) 978-3139
Email: mcnair@ku.edu